Raise your gaze.

Contura i61 – the warm heart and hearth of your home

Take time out from life's to-dos. Raise your gaze to appreciate a new homeliness. Live the dream and enjoy the cosiness together – with the Contura i61. An elegantly designed stove with style to impress, but compact for easy positioning in any interior.

The Contura i61 gives centre-stage to the fire and warmth. Its generous windows let you see more of the fire with a unique widescreen front guaranteed to attract every gaze. The Contura i61 also features a high-mount firebox to raise the fire and enhance its ambience in the room.

Insert for personalised recess

The stove is also available as an insert, the Contura i60, in which the only limit on the look is your imagination, as you recess the insert in your choice of surround.

Regardless of the style and decor in your home, you're sure to find a Contura stove to your taste.

Design to make time stand still

Timeless Scandinavian elegance to thrill and amaze. The Contura i61 is ideal for both contemporary and traditional interiors. The design is based on our popular i50 range, but has been updated to give it a sleeker, more compact format. The Contura i61 was designed in association with the Myra design agency, which has been realising appealing and functional design inspired by Scandinavian heritage and style for four decades.

Discover a new kind of screentime

It's easy to lose yourself in the new Contura i61. The unique widescreen glass door gives the fire maximum visibility. The door opens by sliding it upwards, for a soft, smooth luxurious touch. The precise seal of the door ensures constant wood combustion efficiency. The easily accessible adjustment handle makes it easy to open the door and clean every inch of the glass.

With the Contura i61, every log becomes a unique work of art; as beautiful to behold as it is cosy to warm yourself by.

"The Contura i61 can blend in with any interior, but you can also install it as a striking statement piece."

Magnus Olsson, designer at Myra.

The glass door on the Contura i61 gives the stove a light and airy look. The firebox has also been raised to a height of 57 centimetres for enhanced flame visibility.

Smart features.

Raised firebox

The Contura i61 is based on the design of the larger i50 range. However, for the Contura i61, the firebox has been raised to a height of 57 centimetres. This enhances the effect of flame visibility and ambience in your interior, but also makes it more handy for you to start or tend the fire.

Soft-touch door opening

Tending a fire was never easier. The uplift door gives you better access to the firebox.

Light your fire easily with the Contura i61. More than just great looks.

Innovative combustion damper

The combustion damper on the Contura i61 has an innovative and efficient design. Using just a single control, you can adjust several supply air systems. This gives you better control of the fire and makes it easier to both start it and tend it.

Store heat with Powerstone

A heat-retaining Powerstone tank extends the effect of your stove. The tank retains heat, releasing it steadily over an extended time.

Freestanding or wall-installed

The Contura i61 can be installed freestanding in your interior or against a wall. Thanks to the integral protective screen, you avoid the risk of any heat damage to the wall. A back panel for freestanding installation provides a stylish finish (metal only).

Easier installation

The design of the Contura i61 makes it even easier to install. Thanks to the smart mounting of stone or steel panels, the installation time is now reduced.

Artstone is resistant to fluctuations in temperature and the natural variant is also ideal to paint. Ask your dealer about the option of a Contura i61 in your own favourite colour!

Multifaceted and adjustable

A lot of things are black and white in our world, but not everything has to be that way. This is why you have a range of materials and colours to choose from in personalising your Contura i61.

Painted metal. Practical and stylish, in black or white.

Soapstone. Naturally heat-retaining stone that makes every stove unique due to its natural veining.

Artstone. A rough grey or sanded white finish. For your Contura i61, you have a choice of natural grey or a white.

Design it the way you want it

The Contura i61 is available with a matching log box. With this accessory, you can customise your stove unit to suit your home.
